THANK YOU from us at Stiftung Kindertraum!

Dear Dr. Schick,

We would like to thank you once again this year for your commitment: thanks to your extremely effective support, this time Andrej's childhood dream will come true - this not only means an enormous relief for Andrej and his family, but also the wonderful feeling for us of knowing that we still have your trust in our organisation and our concerns.

Only if we think with empathy and heart can we work together to give children and young people with serious illnesses and disabilities a new quality of life.

We wish you and your business partners happy holidays and a relaxing end to the year!

All the best from
Diana Gregor-Patera & the team of Stiftung Kindertraum

Fulfilled children's dreams always mean security and warmth ...

4-year-old Andrej benefits from music therapy to improve his ability to express himself through facial expressions and gestures and to sensitise him to his own experiences. An evidence-based neuro-stimulation programme is used to stimulate the brain through hearing – music and voices are processed in a special way and "offered" to the brain. Head-phones are used that are equipped with air conduction and bone conduction via the skull bone. Areas of the brain that are responsible for complex things are activated: Hearing, motor skills, emotional centres and those areas of the brain that are responsible for storing memories.

The method is also suitable for younger children who enjoy immersing themselves in the gentle universe of sound. During the sessions, Andrej can play or rest.
